MIDWIFERY CARE

Ashlie Buell, RN, CNM, WHNP
Certified Nurse Midwife
Obstetrics & Gynecology

Ashlie Buell, RN, CNM, WHNP, graduated Magna Cum Laude from Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, Virginia with an undergraduate degree in Women's Studies. She obtained her first master's degree in Women's Health from Suffolk University in Boston, Massachusetts, where she participated in activities on behalf of the Massachusetts Coalition for Midwifery to facilitate communication regarding legislative women's health efforts. Ashlie went on to receive her second master's degree from the University of California in San Francisco as a Certified Nurse Midwife and Women's Health Nurse Practitioner.

Ashlie is an active member in the American College of Nurse-Midwives. She is certified in Basic Life Support, Electronic Fetal Monitoring, Neonatal Resuscitation, Basic Obstetric Ultrasound, Centering Pregnancy facilitation, and First Assist for Cesarean Section. Ashlie has experience as a birth doula, and has even been involved in training for other women in doula care.

Ashlie's interests include practicing full-scope midwifery care with a diverse population of women and their families. She enjoys all aspects of women's care, and very much looks forward to developing relationships with the expectant mothers who choose Chippenham Hospital and Virginia Complete Care for Women.
